Once again NACUMS is offering conference attendees the opportunity to earn the distinction of Mailpiece Design Consultant (MDC), an Industry Professional Certification sponsored by Mail Systems Management Association (MSMA).

The value of professional certifications among our NACUMS membership makes us all stronger together! In that light NACUMS is providing a limited number of complimentary registrations for the MDC exam at this year's conference.

Advance registration is required. Attendees interested in taking the MDC exam must complete the interest form no later than June 8. Please use the link at the top of this page!
